A NOTE FROM THE EDITORS—

The following information was obtained at Fairview Cemetery office. Fairview Cemetery has scrapbooks with obituaries beginning in 1932. If there was no obituary for the person, the newspapers were searched, and if an obituary could not be located, death records were checked. While searching we may have overlooked an obituary in the paper so there may be an obituary that is in the paper but not in the book. Obituaries in the scrapbook do not tell the date or the name of the newspaper they were clipped from. The newspaper date at the end of an entry is the day an obituary was supposed to be in the newspaper. However, that may be the location for a different obituary than the one in the scrapbook. Most of the obituaries in the scrapbook appeared to have come from a Louisville, KY newspaper. In some instances, such as in cases of an away death or an infant, neither an obituary nor a death record could be located.

Dr. James H. Ashabranner—

Dr. James H. Ashabranner served Librarian for the New Albany Public Library from 1887-1896. He was elected president of the Indiana State Medical Association in 1920. His office was located at 1320 E. Market.

New Albany Tribune Thursday 1 Oct 1936 p1 c3—Dr. Ashabranner Ill Long, Dies In St. Edward's-Well Known Doctor, Writer and Former Librarian Confined More Than 3 Years-Funeral To Be Friday—Dr. James H. Ashabranner, 75, widely known in medical and literary circles of the city for many years, died at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night in St. Edward's Hospital from a heart ailment. He had been confined to the institution since January, 1932. He began the practice of medicine thirty-seven years ago, was graduated from the Electic Medical College of Cincinnati in 1899. He located in New Albany and later removed to Los Angeles, where he remained only a short time. He returned to this city and continued his profession until he was stricken ill. A native of Clark County, he was born and reared in the vicinity of "Dead Man's Hollow." He received his early education in that county and also attended a college in Marengo, then known for its high standing as an educational center. For a number of years, he served as secretary of the old Y. M. C. A. and also had charge of its library, which was made possible through the Carnegie Foundation. He became the first librarian in the new building at Bank and Spring Streets. He joined the Floyd County Medical Society sixteen years ago and was a former vice president of the organization. He was one of the founders of LaBelle Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and served as its first worthy patron. He was also a member of DePauw Lodge of Masons and of the Trinity M. E. Church. He and his wife, who died several years ago, were active in church work, taking prominent roles in musical programs. He enjoyed unusual literary talent and his work was recognized by nationally known magazines which published his contributions. His local contributions, which were made exclusively to the Tribune, included chiefly poems on timely subjects. He wrote frequently during the time he was confined to his bed in the hospital. His last poem, which appeared in this publication several weeks ago, entitled "Women", was dedicated to Helen Louise Probert, chosen "Miss New Albany" in a bathing beauty contest. Dr. Ashabranner traveled extensively. A few years ago he made a trip to Hawaii. Surviving are a number of nieces and nephews. The body is at the Mullineaux Chapel, Spring and Thirteenth Streets, where funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Dr. James Y. McCullough

New Albany Tribune Thursday 22 Feb 1934—Death Comes to Dr. McCullough—Well Known Physician Passes Away in Prolonged Illness—Body at Kin's Home Funeral To Be Saturday—Dr. James Y. McCullough has lost a gallant fight. The physician beloved by hundreds died at 12:25 o'clock Thursday morning in his home 911 E. Market St. after waging a havic battle against a malady which undermined his health months ago. Death did not come unexpectedly. For several weeks his condition had been grave. At times he would rally and show slight improvement, but at no time did he surrender. His attending physician's marveled at his stamina. He had suffered from a kidney ailment in Feb. 1929, underwent a major operation in Louisville. Later he resumed his practice, although his health declined. In Dec. 1931 in the Harper Hospital in Detroit, he submitted to an operation pronounced as one of the most hazardous known to the medical profession. He was confined in the institution for months under treatment. After recuperating here for several weeks, he resumed his practice 11 Mar 1932. He was greeted by scores of friends and their hearty welcome made him cheerful. Although handicapped by affliction, he went about his business, sometimes when he was hardly able to be about. In time his condition grew worse and he underwent treatment in Detroit on several occasions. He returned from his last trip to the Harper Hospital 8 Dec, and from then until his death he was confined to his bed. His death is mourned by the entire city and the medical profession. In his passing the community has lost a good physician and a good citizen. He came to New Albany in 1915 from Casey, Ill., where he located following his graduation from the University of Louisville School of Medicine, two years before. He opened an office in 724 East Spring St. and in due time became one of the best-known physicians in this city. He enjoyed an unusually large practice. Born in Scott County in 1882 he graduated from the Scottsburg High School in 1903. For a while he taught school in Scott and Marion counties. He took a post graduate course in pediatrics, also in diseases of the heart, besides specializing in diseases of children, whom he treated with the utmost tenderness. Throughout his entire practice he maintained memberships in the Floyd County Medical Society and American Medical Society. He served as secretary of the Floyd County Board of Health from 1930 to 1934 and for several years was a member of the staff of St. Edward's Hospital, once serving as its chairman. He was a son of the late J. H. and Alice McCullough. Surviving are a son James Y. McCullough Jr. 24, a senior in the University of Pennsylvania Medical College, Philadelphia; a daughter, Miss Mary Alice McCullough, 19, a member of the freshman class at Hanover College; three sisters, Mrs. Pearl McClain, Scottsburg; Mrs. Henry McCracken, Argos, Ind.; Mrs. Ora B. Reid, Scottsburg and three brothers, Frank V. McCullough, New Albany, secretary of the Indiana Pharmaceutical Association; Dr. Fred H. McCullough, a New Albany dentist; and Dr. Bruce W. McCullough, professor of English in the University of the City of New York. Dr. McCullough married Miss Mabel Robinson of Washington County in 1907. The body has been removed to the home of his brother, Frank, 2202 Reno Avenue. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Hutchinson Memorial Presbyterian Church, of which he was a member. Burial will be in Graceland Memorial Park. The Rev. Thomas B. Terhune will officiate.

Dr. Anna I. McKamy—

New Albany Tribune Thursday 13 May 1937 p1 c2—Dr. McKamy Dies In Mattoon, Ill.—First Woman To Hold City Health Post Leaves Fine Record Of Public Service—Funeral To Be Friday—Dr. Anna I. McKamy, 75, the first woman to hold the position of city health officer in New Albany and for many years prominently identified in social welfare work here, died Wednesday afternoon in the home of her brother, William M. McKamy, at Mattoon, Ill. News of the death, received by her nephew, W. N. McKamy, Louisville, said Dr. McKamy died from a heart ailment. Retiring from the active practice of medicine several months ago on account of ill health, Dr. McKamy went to Mattoon to live with her brother. She left here last November, saying that she expected to return to New Albany within a year. In addition to practicing her profession in the city over forty years, Dr. McKamy took an active interest in social problems. Co-operating with parent-teacher associations and other agencies interested in the problems of children, the physician became an outstanding social leader. Recognizing her services to the community and her deep devotion to the cause of public health, Prof. Charles B. McLinn, now public school superintendent, appointed her city health officer when he became mayor in 1930. Dr. McKamy worked untiringly day and night to meet the responsibilities of her office in addition to practicing medicine. To her go the credit for the grading and inspection of milk in Floyd and Clark counties. Co-operating with the State board of Health, Dr. McKamy in 1932 succeeded in the development of an inspection program for milk which is in use today in the counties. Professor McLinn said Thursday that Dr. McKamy proved herself "a fine public servant." "Her death saddens me," he said. "She gave the best she had for her community and rendered a splendid service as city health officer. She was a competent physician and a great benefactor." Mrs. Arthur T. Shrader, a leader in parent-teacher activities here, paid a high tribute to Dr. McKamy. "When she was forced to retire this community lost a great social worker and an outstanding public servant." Mrs. Shrader said. "New Albany will always be indebted to her for her great work." Dr. McKamy's devotion to New Albany was demonstrated during the flood in January. Although enfeebled by illness, she planned to return to the city during the disaster to give whatever services she might render. She, however, was dissuaded from carrying out her plans by her brother, who realized she was not in physical condition to meet the requirements of the situation. At one time Dr. McKamy owned and conducted a maternity hospital [1917-1920] on the site of the James Forman home on East Spring street. Later she disposed of the property and engaged in the general practice of medicine and in social welfare work. Responsive always to the plea for aid, Dr. McKamy, it was said, rendered medical service at the Culbertson Home for the Aged Women at any time of the day or night without charge. Dr. McKamy also was an active member of the Floyd County Tuberculosis Association and became known throughout the state for her work in the interest of the prevention of the disease. Dr. McKamy also was an active member of the Hutchinson Memorial Presbyterian Church for many years and was affiliated with the Altrusa Club of New Albany. Surviving besides the brother and nephew in Louisville is another nephew, John A. McKamy, Lexington, Ky. Funeral services and burial will take place Friday afternoon in Matton. Graduated from North Western University Chicago in 1899. She was a member of the Pinakeshaw Chapter of the DAR at New Albany, Ind. She was the only woman physician in the city in 1913 and was an honored member of the Floyd County Medical Society. Her office 1014 E. Spring.

New Albany Tribune Monday 24 Jun 1946—County Doctor of Galena Dies—Dr. Edwin L. Sigmon, 80, self-styled "country doctor", who lived in Galena nine miles north of New Albany on U.S. 150 died at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday in St. Edward's Hospital where he was taken for a treatment two years ago. A native of New Albany, he practiced medicine in Floyd County for nearly 60 years. He was graduated from New Albany High School but while attending he read medicine in the office of Dr. John L. Stewart in preparation for entrance from the old Kentucky School of Medicine of which he received his degree in 1886. He studied surgery and began his medical practice in New Albany when he was 20 years old. He located his office with Dr. Stewart at 149 State Street and continued practicing here for 31 years. He then practiced medicine for eight years at Borden before going to Galena in 1925. As a country doctor, he traveled many miles over rough roads to see his patients. He once related his most harrowing experience was the time he nearly drowned as his horse broke through the ice of a creek while he was on his way to visit a patient. He was a Dean of Floyd County's medical profession. He was a member of the Floyd County Medical Society, and of Indiana Medical Association, and was former surgeon for the Monon Railroad Company. Surviving: wife Mrs. Gladys Sigmon, Cleveland, Ohio. The body is at the residence where funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday with burial in Fairview Cemetery.

Dr. William Lee Starr—

William Starr was the son of David and Mary Argenbight Starr. His two brothers were Jacob B. and Huon J. Starr. The Starr's moved to New Albany in the early 60's, when David enlisted in the Army. He graduated from high school at the age of 17. While attending the Univ of Lou, he lived with relatives in Louisville the greater part of the time. He later married Elizabeth Viola Johnson. In later years, Dr. Starr specialized in anesthesia, attending classes in Louisville. He was also highly regarded by other doctors for his skill in obstetrics. For twenty-two years, he was coroner of Floyd County, and for several years prior to his death he was Health commissioner for Mayor Hauswald. Office 1018 E. Spring.

New Albany Tribune Monday 6 Jun 1938 p1 c3 & p5 c5—Funeral Planned This Afternoon For Dr. Starr—Physician Here For 55 Years Stricken Ill Two Years Ago; Georgetown Native—Also Served As Coroner—Funeral services for Dr. William L. Starr, former County Coroner and a practicing physician in New Albany for fifty-five years, were planned for 4 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Elmer H. Dieckmann Chapel, 615 Vincennes Street, with burial in Fairview Cemetery. He died at 7:20 o'clock sat night in the residence, 1018 East Spring Street, following an illness of two years. He was 79 years old. Born in Georgetown, May 20, 1859, the physician was graduated from the New Albany High School. After studying a year in the office of the late Dr. Thomas Neat, he attended the medical school of the University of Louisville from which he graduated in 1881. Dr. Starr started practicing his profession in New Albany shortly after his graduation. Two years later he and Mrs. Starr moved to 1018 East Spring Street, where they resided forty-eight years. September 28, 1937, the couple observed its fiftieth wedding anniversary there. Coroner of Floyd County for twenty-two years, he had the distinction of holding three offices at one time when he was a young man. Besides being Coroner, he served as secretary of the City Board of Health and was also county health commissioner. The last public office he held was in the administration of Mayor J. G. Hauswald. He was appointed secretary of the city health board and served in that capacity until stricken ill two years ago this month. Dr. John P. Gentile was named to fill the vacancy caused by Dr. Starr's resignation. The last member of the Floyd County Medical Society, Dr. Starr was affiliated with the Indiana State Medical Society and the American Medical Association. He was also a member of the Hutchinson Memorial Presbyterian Church. The physician for hundreds of families in the city and county, he with his flowing whiskers, in his younger days, was a familiar figure riding a bicycle from home to home to make professional calls. Known for his kindly disposition, unquestioned integrity and a sympathy that marked his presence at the bedside of his patients, he was the object of high tributes paid by business and professional leaders. "He was one of the finest characters I have ever known," Mayor Hauswald said. The city's chief executive led the list of those who paused to view the remains. Dr. Starr was the last survivor of his immediate family. Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Starr; two daughters, Mrs. Frank J. Poutch, Silver Hills, and Mrs. Percy Pierson, New Albany and four grandchildren, Miss Elizabeth Poutch, teacher in the public schools in Columbus, Ind., and Misses Jane Poutch and Patti and Betty Pierson, all of New Albany. Edwards, August Jahnel, John A. Matthews, F. Shirley Wilcox, and Victor J. Penn. The honorary pallbearers are Mayor Hauswald, Dr. Robert W. Harris, Dr. J. E. Bird, Dr. William E. Winstandley, Dr. P. H. Schoen, Dr. James W. Baxter Sr., Dr. William Moore, Dr. H. B. Shacklett, Judge John M. Paris, Councilman Neal V. Trautman, Maynard C. Beard, Edward J. Tighe and Claude M. Rosenbarger.

Dr. Frank T. Tyler—

F. T. Tyler was a WW I veteran.

Courier Journal-Friday-22 Jun 1973—New Albany physician, Dr. Tyler, is dead at 92—Dr. Frank T. Tyler, 92, a general practice physician and surgeon, who practiced medicine in New Albany until he was 91 years old, died at 10 p.m. Wednesday at Floyd County Memorial Hospital. He was reputed to be the oldest active doctor in Indiana at the time of his retirement in March 1972, 1 1/2 years ago, lived at 420 Vincennes St., where he also had his offices. His son, Owen R. Tyler, said his father was fairly active until he retired, and he kept regular office hours. Many of his old patients came to see him regularly, and it appeared the doctor was getting as much benefit from the visits as the patients did, the son recalled. During his later years, he confined his activities to his general practice, but early in his career he was very active as a surgeon the son said. At one time, he added, he and another surgeon handled most of the surgery at the old St. Edward's Hospital on Spring Street. He was a member of the last graduating class at the old Kentucky School of Medicine, the forerunner of the University of Louisville School of Medicine, in 1908. A native of Harrison County, Ind., returned to his home county after receiving his medical degree, and he had an office at 1320 E. Spring and on Vincennes, across from his last office, before settling down at 420 Vincennes. He was Floyd County coroner for 26 years. Fiddles-and the making of fiddles in a small workshop behind his home-were among his hobbies, according to a Courier-Journal story in 1963, when Dr. Tyler was 83. He was a member of the American and Indiana Medical association, a 50-year member of the Royal Arch Masons, Jefferson Masonic Lodge 104 and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and the Silver Street United Methodist Church. Besides his son, Owen R. Tyler, survivors include a half-sister, Mrs. Robert Oaks; two grandchildren; six great-grandchildren, and a great-great-grandchild. The funeral will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Dieckmann Funeral Home. Masonic services will be held at 7:30 p.m. today. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. The body will be at the funeral home after 10 a.m. today.

Dr. Harry E. Voyles—

New Albany Tribune-Wednesday-22 Feb. 1978—Dr. H. E. Voyles, 81, prominent New Albany physician who was in practice here for more than a half a century, died at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Naples, Fla. Hospital. He was of 425 Beharrell Ave. in New Albany. The body will be at Dieckmann Funeral Home, with visitation after 3 p.m. today. The funeral will be Thursday at 2 p.m. at the funeral home, with entombment in the mausoleum at Graceland Memorial Park. He was a native of Palmyra, born there Dec. 9, 1896. He attended grade school at Palmyra, completing his elementary and high school education in New Albany. He received his bachelor of Arts degree from Indiana University after which he entered IU Medical School, later taking post-graduate courses in New York and Philadelphia. He was a member of the Floyd County Medical Society, being Society president in 1941 and 1942, and was a fellow member of the American Medical Association, and one time served as Chief of Staff at old St. Edward's Hospital here from 1943 to 1945. He was the first physician to use penicillin in Floyd County, and was proud of the fact that he introduced, in Floyd County, on April 14, 1944, the first caudal anesthetic used in childbirth. There had been fewer than 100 deliveries in the country of painless births at that time. In a series of 500 cases he performed, there were no complications to any of the mothers. He also owned the first electrocardiograph in New Albany, and for many years, from 1940 on made practically all the tracings at St. Edward's Hospital. In early practice, he was very interested in modern laboratory procedures, and introduced to the Floyd County Medical Society blood chemistry tests which later became valuable routine laboratory procedures. His office was in the Elsbey (American Bank) Building until his retirement in March, 1976, after 53 years of practice. He was a veteran of World War I, a member of Central Christian Church and Jefferson Lodge 104 F & A.M. He leaves his wife, Edith (Bird) Voyles; daughter, Mrs. Louise Balla, of Dallas, Tex., a son, Dr. Harry Voyles Jr. of Louisville, and five grandchildren.
